13 August 2013

Dear Members of the St Gregory’s Community,

The Feast of the Assumption

The Feast of the Assumption takes place this Thursday the 15\textsuperscript{th} of August. This is a remembrance of the day when Mary was assumed body and soul into heaven. Jesus ascended into Heaven under his own power but many Christians believed that Mary’s body was so important in the Christian story that it would not have been allowed to decay and therefore was assumed into Heaven.

Once again, this feast day takes on a special significance for us as a Marist College and because of the devotion that Marcellin had to Mary our mother.

There will be a Vigil Mass here at the College at 5.15pm on Wednesday 14\textsuperscript{th} August in the Chapel for the boarders. You are welcome to attend this mass if you so desire.

I would encourage all members of our community to attend this special feast day celebration in your own parishes if you are not attending the College Mass.

Best wishes,

Damien Millar
Headmaster