Our stars shine in musical

FOUR Macarthur region actors will light up the stage at Parramatta’s Riverside Theatre alongside performer Jon English.

Bradley Roe, of Mt Annan, Alyssa Wilkins, of Bradbury, Christopher Glynn, of Blairmount, and Bradley Gavin, of Macquarie Fields, will take you back to the 1960s in Packemin Productions’ latest show Hair - spray.

Glynn is delighted to play one of the lead roles, saying: “[The show] is a big step up from the local musicals I’ve done. I was ecstatic to be given the lead role of Link. “It’s a lot of hard work, especially the choreography, but I know it will all pay off and it is going to be brilliant,” he said.

Hairspray tells the story of Baltimore teen Tracy Turnblad, played by English — a big girl with big hair and an even bigger heart. She tries to follow her dream of being a dancer and along the way, she becomes a fashion trendsetter, wins the affections of teen heart-throb Link Larkin and becomes an advocate for race equality.

Wilkins also takes on one of the lead roles, bringing to life the character of Amber Von Tussle, a mean, popular high school queen.
